EIGHT ATTORNEYS JOIN LEWIS RICE

The St. Louis office of Lewis, Rice & Fingersh, L.C. is pleased to announce that attorneys John B. Greenberg, Michael A. Fisher, R. John Klevorn, III, H. Kent Munson, and Jeffrey H. Pass have joined the firm as members. In addition, Emily K. Bardon, Charla M. Claypool and Nora S. Coggin will be joining the firm as associates. All attorneys were formerly associated with The Stolar Partnership LLP.

“We are very pleased to have this group of quality and experienced lawyers joining our firm. Each of these well-respected attorneys brings a wealth of knowledge and a breadth of experience that will enable us, as a firm, to better serve our clients,” said Lewis Rice Chairman, Tom Erb. “There is great synergy here.”

Further commenting on the move, John Greenberg said, “We approached Lewis Rice because we saw a compelling opportunity to better serve our clients from a much broader and deeper platform.”

Jeffrey Pass commented further, “We are pleased to be affiliating with a firm of Lewis Rice’s caliber, with its long history as a strong and stable leader in the St. Louis legal community. From the outset, we saw this as a perfect fit for our clients, as well as ourselves.”

Following are short summaries of our new members and associates:

John B. Greenberg represents corporate clients in commercial transactions and litigation involving intellectual property, advertising and antitrust matters.

Michael A. Fisher’s practice focuses on complex commercial and civil litigation. Mr. Fisher has extensive jury trial experience in both state and federal courts and substantial experience representing clients in commercial arbitration proceedings.
